

Love: Advanced Course

These are the verses on Love and about Love. Anyone in need of pleasure and gratification, anyone who would like to feel more joyful and appreciative of the bliss they may not fully realize they possess of any age, inclination, proclivity or deprivation you all are welcome in the Realm of Love! The collection is primarily dedicated to women, who have the need to share and confide. However, men will also benefit, though in a different way in learning that to feel means to understand, and that every emotion affects our comprehension This collection is subtitled an advanced course because it loosely follows the authors previous collection of love poems, 101 in Love (2007). These poems are more mature both emotionally and poetically. Indeed, these are the most beautiful poems in verse about Love written in this century.
