

Eleven More American Women Poets in the 21st Century: Poetics Across North America (American Poets in the 21st Century)

Eleven More American Women Poets in the 21st Century is an exciting sequel to its predecessors in the American Poets in the 21st Century series. Like the earlier anthologies, this volume includes generous selections of poetry by some of the best poets of our time as well as illuminating poetics statements and incisive essays on their work. This unique organization makes these books invaluable teaching tools. Broadening the lens through which we look at contemporary poetry, this new volume extends its geographical net by including Caribbean and Canadian poets. Representing three generations of women writers, among the insightful pieces included in this volume are essays by Karla Kelsey on Mary Jo Bangs modes of artifice, Christine Hume on Carla Harrymans kinds of listening, Dawn Lundy Martin on M. NourbeSe Phillip (for whom english / is a foreign anguish), and Sina Queyras on Lisa Robertsons confoundingly beautiful surfaces. A companion web site will present audio of each poets work.
