

Gods Spirit in the World: Ecumenical and Cultural Essays (Ser. IVA, Vol. 43) (Ser. VIII, Vol. 2) (Polish Philosophical Thought) (Cultural Heritage ... 43; Series VIII, Christian Philosophic)

From the Forward: In this book I want to write about what God's Spirit does in our lives and in the world. This is certainly not intended to be an exhaustive study covering all possible aspects of this comprehensive topic. Encouraged by George McLean and some other friends, I decided to write this book, convinced that we need such a reflection today in the era of ecumenical dialogue and mutual openness. As Christians we can learn a lot from one another about how to live out our faith in the Holy Spirit more intensely and effectively and about how to invoke him in our daily lives. For this reason I write not only from the context of Western theology, but also draw inspiration frequently from the centuries-long tradition of the Christian East. My views on the Spirit's presence and activity are not determined by one particular denomination. I want to seek out what God has said about his Spirit within the context of the relationship with other believers and traditions.
